Playing the Beginner's Game

Introduction to Playing the Game

The following explanation tells you how to set-up the board and arrange basic moves for the "Play at Home" version of Relationship Success Chess involving two players/teams.

Step 1: Choosing your playing opponent

To get the most from the game, you need to play against someone who knows you well – a close/intimate partner OR Mentor OR Relationship Coach.

You play the WHITE pieces and your opponent is your "alone side" and plays the black pieces.

Step 2: Building Your Capability

You build personal capability using the following guidelines.

Roll two dice. Multiply the number you get by $ 100 000. This is how much money you have for building your capability.

With the money you have available, using the cost of pieces on page 6 (see below), select the pieces you want and place them on the Board in the same positions as for normal Chess.

Remember to mark Bishops, Knights and Rooks as either 1 OR 2 or use a label from the table on page 5.

Step 3: Your Alone Side

Your opponent builds your "alone side" i.e. the things that stop you being Relationship Successful, using the following guidelines.

Roll two dice. Multiply the number you get by $ 200 000. This is how much money you have for building the "alone side."

With the money you have available, using the cost of pieces on page 7 (see below), select the pieces you want and place them on the Board in the same positions as for normal Chess.

Step 4: Playing the Game

Each Player takes turns to move their pieces as for normal Chess.

Pieces can be taken in the same way as for ordinary Chess.

Every time the WHITE player loses as a “Intimacy and Closeness (IC– see below)” the player explains how the “alone side” quality of piece that took this IC has impacted his/her Relationship.

Every time the WHITE player takes a piece, he/she must explain how to use the capability of that piece in his/her Relationship.

The Objective of the Game

The idea is for the white player to win by defeating his/her “alone side” and discover: for himself/herself what capabilities are need for Relationship Success and what comprises his/her “alone side” which prevent Relationship Success.

Winning the Game

A player wins when she/he captures the opposition Soul - King.

Being MORE Successful

You can be more successful by being MORE CAPABLE – learn how by playing Advanced Relationship Success.

CUSTOMISED GAMES

You can have a game customised to your personal or group/family or professional needs. Customisation fees start at AUS $250.00.***
